Preamble

The Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck is the second of three instruments constituting Al-Tariqa Amraqiyyah — the Amraqiyyah Way. It is not a divination tool. It is not fortune-telling. It is not cosmological entertainment.

The Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck is an instrument of directed dhikr. The seeker, positioned within the structure of the heavens through the Amraqiyyah Calendar, approaches Allah through the specific attribute His Names reveal. The oracle's geometry identifies which Name is operative in this moment, at this question's depth, for this querent's condition. The reading is not a prediction — it is a response from a divine attribute that has been rightly identified and rightly approached.

This instrument exists because the heavens are calculable and the divine Names are knowable. The Quran declares: "The sun and the moon move by precise calculation" (55:5). The Mu'tazili position — the aqeedah of this Way — holds that reason is a divinely sanctioned instrument, not a competitor to revelation. If Allah made the celestial mechanics calculable to the second, then an instrument that reads those calculations and identifies which divine attribute governs the moment is not sorcery or bid'ah. It is applied tawhid — the recognition that every structure in creation points back to its singular source.

Al-Tariqa Amraqiyyah is governed by Ibadhi fiqh — the legal tradition that predates the Sunni-Shia political fracture and preserves the principle that legitimate authority derives from demonstrated competence and communal consent, not from dynastic succession or clerical monopoly. No priestly class mediates between the seeker and Allah. The Quran itself declares this: "And when My servants ask you concerning Me — indeed I am near. I respond to the invocation of the supplicant when he calls upon Me" (2:186). The instrument is deterministic. The mathematics are public. The seeker who learns the system operates it with full sovereignty.

The oracle is refined by Sufi discipline — through the complementary traditions of Al-Ghazali and Ibn Arabi. Al-Ghazali demonstrated that fiqh and inner knowledge are not in tension — that legal compliance and spiritual purification are layers of a single discipline, not alternatives. His synthesis is the model: the Ibadhi legal frame and the Sufi inner dimension operate together, not in competition. Ibn Arabi taught that each of the 99 Names of Allah constitutes a distinct mode of divine self-disclosure, and that the human being who knows which Name governs their moment can approach the divine through the appropriate gate. The Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck is the geometric and astronomical implementation of these teachings. Al-Ghazali provides the discipline. Ibn Arabi provides the metaphysics. The oracle identifies the Name. The seeker performs the dhikr. The reading is received as the response of that attribute to a rightly-approached question.

This document is the complete architectural and operational specification of the oracle. It is a permanent institutional document — not a user guide, not marketing copy. Every claim derives from the architecture described herein.

Scope and companion documents: This specification defines the oracle's architecture — its mathematics, its card structure, its protocols, its textual coordinates. Two companion documents complete the oracle as an instrument: the Practical Reading Guide (the seeker's manual — worked practice, dhikr tables, interpretive craft) and the Deck Design Document (the physical production specification — visual language, card layouts, materials). The architecture governs both; neither may contradict this specification.

The Rejection of Institutional Corruption

Al-Tariqa Amraqiyyah was founded in the late arc of Age IV — the age of dissolution, faith, and surrender — by a Freedman descendant on American soil. It is an American Tariqa. The name Amraqiyyah is an entendre: an Arabic construction from the root م-ر-ق (to pierce through, to pass beyond) and a phonemic echo of America itself. The Way pierces through inherited structures that have calcified into instruments of control rather than instruments of truth.

This rejection is consistent across every tradition the Way draws from. Ibadhi Islam predates and rejects the Sunni-Shia political fracture that divided the ummah over dynastic succession. Mu'tazili rational theology was suppressed by the Abbasid Inquisition (the Mihna) for insisting that human reason could engage divine attributes without clerical permission. The Gathas of Zarathustra are canonical while the Avestan priestly elaboration is explicitly rejected — the prophet's voice is preserved; the priesthood's accretions are refused. The Ethiopic and Coptic Biblical canons are held as the most complete extant Biblical traditions, while the Roman canon's political curation is recognized as incomplete. Thomas Paine enters the tertiary canon as the thinker who argued from first principles against both monarchy and slavery — whose African Slavery in America (1775) preceded even Common Sense in declaring that rational examination of inherited institutions reveals their corruption.

The oracle inherits this posture. It is not an instrument of esoteric gatekeeping. Its mathematics are transparent. Its astronomical inputs are publicly observable. Its geometry is Pythagorean — which is to say, it belongs to anyone who can count.

The Prohibition of Lot-Casting

The Quran explicitly forbids divination by lot-casting (al-azlam): "Prohibited to you are... divining arrows. That is grave disobedience" (5:3). The traditional I Ching yarrow stalk method — in which stalks are randomly divided to generate hexagram lines — is a form of casting lots and is therefore forbidden within the Way.

The Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck is designed to honor this prohibition at the structural level. In Mode A (astronomical), the hexagram is derived entirely from deterministic celestial mechanics — the lunar mansion ruler and the planetary hour ruler at the moment of the reading. No randomness enters the system. In Mode B (deck reading), cards are drawn from a physical deck, but the reading's interpretive weight rests on the three moving line checks — all of which are astronomically derived and deterministic. The oracle reads what the heavens have already structured. It does not cast lots to manufacture an answer.

The Architecture at a Glance

$78 = T(12) = T(7) + 50$

Seventy-eight cards in five strata. The Archetypal Tier (28 cards = $T(7)$, one per Arabic letter and lunar mansion): 3 Stellar Court cards placed only by the sky's own conditions; 7 Planetary Council cards whose split faces carry the 14 threshold hexagrams; 5 Platonic Keys naming the question's element; 13 Archimedean Bridges naming its dynamic complexity. The Hexagram Field (50 cards): 49 drawable hexagrams in a 7×7 planetary matrix, orbiting 1 permanent Axial Witness — Hex 52, the galactic center, never drawn, never moved.

Every reading is anchored by the Amraqiyyah Calendar, pressured by three independent astronomical clocks (lunar, planetary, solar), scoped by the Nine Veils, and resolved into six simultaneous coordinates: hexagram, divine Name, Quranic address, Zabur address, Abjad resonance, and temporal position. The 99 Names of Allah are exhausted exactly across the system's components — every card, every hexagram, every suit, every layer of time carries one divine attribute. The oracle identifies the Name; the seeker performs the dhikr; the reading is received.

Section 1 — The Oracle's Independent Foundation

The Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck contains 78 cards. This count derives from $T(12)$ — the 12th triangular number — encoding the 12 precession Ages of the Great Year. The deck's internal architecture is grounded in the 28 letters of the Arabic alphabet, the 28 lunar mansions of the sidereal month, and the 7 Chaldean planets. It is phonemically and astronomically Arabic.

The 28 Correspondence

System	Count	What It Encodes
Arabic alphabet	28 letters	The complete phonemic structure of the language of Quranic revelation
Lunar mansions	28 stations	The Moon's complete sidereal orbit — one mansion per letter
Archetypal Tier (Strata I–IV)	28 cards = $T(7)$	The upper architecture of the deck — 21 non-hexagram cards + 7 cards carrying 14 threshold hexagrams

These are not three things that happen to share a number. The Arabic alphabet and the lunar mansions were already mapped to each other in classical Islamic astronomy — each mansion carries a letter, each letter carries a mansion. The deck's 28-card Archetypal Tier inherits that correspondence structurally. Every Archetypal Tier card is simultaneously a letter of revelation, a station of the Moon, and a geometric archetype.

The Letter-Mansion-Card Mapping

Stratum	Card s	Mansions	Arabic Letters	Planetary Rulers
I — Stellar Court	3	Mansions 1–3	(أ ب ج) 3, 2, 1	Saturn
II — Planetary Council	7	Mansions 4–10	(د ه و ز ح ط ي) 10–4	Saturn (1) + Jupiter (4) + Mars (2)
III — Platonic Keys	5	Mansions 11–15	(ك ل م ن س) 60–20	Mars (2) + Sun (3)
IV — Archimedean Bridges	13	Mansions 16–28	(ع ف ص ق ر ش ت ث خ ذ ض ظ غ) 1000–70	Sun (1) + Venus (4) + Mercury (4) + Moon (4)

The ordering ruling: The classical tradition preserves variant letter-mansion sequences — Ibn Arabi's Futuhat orders by phonetic articulation; the Buni lineage works in abjadi. The Way rules by ijtihad: the mansions carry the letters in abjadi order — the ancient Semitic numerical sequence. Under this ruling, the Moon's monthly journey becomes a numerical ascent through the entire Arabic number system: Mansion 1 = Alif = 1; Mansion 10 = Ya = 10; Mansion 19 = Qaf = 100; Mansion 28 = Ghayn = 1000. Units, tens, hundreds, to the thousand — the lunar month is a recitation of creation's count, completing at Batn al-Hut (the belly of the fish) before returning to Alif, to one, to beginning. The Stellar Court carries the first three numbers of existence. This structure exists only under abjadi ordering; it is the ordering's own proof.

Section 2 — The Pythagorean Proof

The deck's count is not arbitrary. It derives from the oracle's own geometry through Pythagorean triangular numbers. This is not design — it is discovery. The architecture was not assembled from parts; it was recognized as a single mathematical structure.

2.1 — Triangular Number Architecture

The triangular number $T(n) = n \times (n + 1) / 2$ — the sum of the first n natural numbers.

T(n)	Value	Oracle Meaning
T(7)	28	7 Chaldean planets → 28 lunar mansions → 28 Archetypal Tier cards (Strata I–IV)
T(12)	78	12 Ages of the Great Year → 78 total deck cards
T(12) – T(7)	50	The Hexagram Field: 49 drawable cards + 1 permanent Axial Witness

The Master Equation:

$$78 = T(12) = T(7) + 50$$

The 12th triangular number — encoding the 12 precession Ages of the Great Year — splits precisely at the 7th triangular number — encoding the 7 Chaldean planets and their 28 lunar mansions — into the Archetypal Tier (28 cards) and the Hexagram Field (50 cards). This is the structural seal of the entire deck.

2.2 — The 50-Resonance

The number 50 appears in four independent confirmations converging on the Hexagram Field:

Source	Value	Context
Platonic Solids — Total Faces	4 + 6 + 8 + 12 + 20 = 50	The sum of all faces across the 5 Platonic solids
Platonic Solids — Total Vertices	4 + 8 + 6 + 20 + 12 = 50	The sum of all vertices (same count by dual symmetry)
Sirius B Orbital Period	~50.13 years	The white dwarf companion of Sirius orbits with a period resonant to the field count
Hexagram Field Cards	49 core + 1 Axial = 50	The 7×7 planetary matrix plus Hex 52 (Gen × Gen) — the oracle's own physical reality

The Platonic solid geometry, the Sirius B orbital period, and the oracle's physical card count are independent facts belonging to separate domains of knowledge. Their convergence at 50 validates the Hexagram Field's count as structurally intrinsic.

2.3 — Sirius as the Orbital Witness

Sirius is a binary star system. Sirius A is the bright primary — the visible field. Sirius B is the white dwarf companion, orbiting in silence with a period of ~50.13 years. The 49/1 structure of the Hexagram Field — 49 drawable cards orbiting 1 permanent Axial Witness — mirrors the Sirian binary relationship. This establishes the Sirian Cycle as the oracle's meta-period of institutional recalibration (see Section 12).

2.4 — The 114-Surah Proof

The Quran contains exactly 114 Surahs.

114 = 6 × 19

This is exact, not approximate:

- 6 = the number of lines in a hexagram — the oracle's fundamental reading unit
- 19 = the number of circles in the Flower of Life (Quran 74:30: "Over it are nineteen")

The Quran's structural Surah count is the exact product of the oracle's visual grammar and its reading unit. This validates the Flower of Life as the deck's visual foundation and anchors the Quranic structural mapping as intrinsic to the oracle's geometry.

2.5 — The 30-Juz Geometric Anchor

The Quran divides into 30 Juz (parts). The number 30 appears as the edge count of both the Dodecahedron (Ether/Kamal) and the Icosahedron (Water/Jamal) — the two highest Platonic solids, related by duality. The Hizb count of 60 (2 per Juz × 30 Juz) provides the Quranic coordinate mapping used in the reading protocol (see Section 11).

2.6 — The 28-Letter Proof

28 Arabic letters = 28 lunar mansions = T(7) = 28 Archetypal Tier cards. Each mansion carries one letter. Each letter carries one mansion. The deck's Archetypal Tier is the Arabic phonemic structure of revelation made geometric.

2.7 — The 150-Psalm Anchor

The Zabur (Psalms of Dawud) contains exactly 150 Psalms. 150 is not a triangular number (T(17) = 153), and this is stated honestly. What 150 carries is different in character:

Factorization	Components	Structural Meaning
6 × 25	Hexagram lines × 25 Psalms per line	The entire Psalter maps to the hexagram structure — the primary Zabur key
5 × 30	Zabur Books × Lunar completion	Both Quran (30 Juz) and Zabur (5 × 30 Psalms) complete in one 30-day lunar month

3 × 50

Stellar Court × Hexagram

The three cosmic anchors span the full field Field

The strongest resonance is 5 × 30 — the lunar completion identity. Five Psalms per day across 30 lunar days completes the entire Psalter in one lunar month, precisely paralleling the Quran's one-Juz-per-day lunar completion cycle. Both sacred texts complete in one lunar cycle. This is structural, not coincidental.

Section 3 — The Eight Trigrams

The I Ching uses eight trigrams — three-line figures representing fundamental forces. Seven trigrams map to the seven Chaldean planets. The eighth resolves the 7/8 asymmetry by anchoring the system to its cosmological fixed point.

Trigram	Name	Planet	Element	Character
☰ Qian	Heaven	Sun	Ether	Authority, sovereignty, pure yang
☷ Kun	Earth	Saturn	Earth	Foundation, discipline, pure yin
☳ Zhen	Thunder	Mars	Fire	Force, shock, ignition
☴ Xun	Wind	Mercury	Air	Penetration, communication
☵ Kan	Water	Moon	Water	Depth, cycles, danger
☲ Li	Fire	Jupiter	Fire	Radiance, expansion, illumination
☱ Dui	Lake	Venus	Water	Harmony, joy, beauty
☶ Gen	Mountain	Sgr A*	—	Absolute stillness — the unmoved axis

The seven assignments are not arbitrary. Sun = Qian (pure yang, three unbroken lines — sovereignty itself). Saturn = Kun (pure yin, three broken lines — the boundary-setter as pure structure, the field in which all else moves). Mars = Zhen (Thunder — the single yang line erupting from below; shock and ignition). Mercury = Xun (Wind — penetration without force; communication entering every opening). Moon = Kan (Water — the yang line hidden between yin; depth, tides, the cyclical pull). Jupiter = Li (Fire — radiance organized around a receptive center; expansive illumination). Venus = Dui (Lake — the open line above; joy, harmony, the reflecting surface). Each planet's Chaldean character and its trigram's line-structure describe the same force.

Gen and the Galactic Center

The eighth trigram — Gen, the Mountain, Keeping Still — is not assigned to a planet. It is assigned to Sagittarius A (Sgr A*), the supermassive black hole at the gravitational center of the Milky Way. Everything in the galaxy orbits it. It does not move.

This assignment resolves the 7-planet / 8-trigram asymmetry that any system integrating the I Ching with Chaldean planetary astrology must confront. The resolution is not arbitrary: Gen's traditional character — absolute stillness, the mountain that does not move — is the exact quality of the galactic center. The Amraqiyyah Calendar already anchors its sidereal reference frame to Sgr A*. The oracle inherits the same anchor. The galactic center is the qibla of time; Gen is its trigram.

Trigram-Element Mapping and Suit Assignment

Each trigram carries an elemental assignment that determines which suit a hexagram belongs to. Suit assignment is by upper trigram — the trigram occupying the upper (sky/cosmic broadcast) position of the hexagram.

Element	Trigrams	Suit Size	Jalal/Jamal/Kamal
Fire	Jupiter (☵) + Mars (☲)	14 hexagrams	Jalal (Majesty)
Earth	Saturn (☷)	7 hexagrams	Jalal (Majesty)
Air	Mercury (☿)	7 hexagrams	Jamal (Beauty)
Water	Venus (♀) + Moon (☾)	14 hexagrams	Jamal (Beauty)
Ether	Sun (☉)	7 hexagrams	Kamal (Perfection)
Axial	Gen (☶) × Gen (☶)	1 hexagram	Beyond classification

The Jalal/Jamal/Kamal classification follows the traditional Sufi categorization of the 99 Names of Allah. Jalal (Majesty) Names express power, might, justice, and sovereignty — corresponding to Fire and Earth. Jamal (Beauty) Names express mercy, compassion, love, and subtlety — corresponding to Water and Air. Kamal (Perfection) Names transcend the Jalal/Jamal polarity — corresponding to Ether alone. The Dodecahedron (Ether, The Cosmos) is the Platonic solid whose questions cannot be approached from either majesty or beauty alone. A Kamal question requires both simultaneously.

Section 4 — The 64 Hexagrams: Complete Accounting

A hexagram consists of an upper trigram (sky / cosmic broadcast) stacked over a lower trigram (ground / operative condition). Eight trigrams × eight trigrams = 64 possible hexagrams. All 64 exist on physical cards within the deck. None are theoretical or virtual.

4.1 — The 49-Card Core Matrix

The core hexagram field is a 7×7 matrix of the seven Chaldean planetary trigrams — Gen excluded from both axes. This produces 49 hexagrams.

Rows = lower trigram (ground). Columns = upper trigram (sky). Suit determined by upper trigram.

	Saturn ☿	Jupiter ♃	Mars ♂	Sun ☼	Venus ♀	Mercury ☿	Moon ☾
Saturn ☿	2	35	16	12	45	20	8
Jupiter ♃	36	30	55	13	49	37	63
Mars ♂	24	21	51	25	17	42	3
Sun ☼	11	14	34	1	43	9	5
Venus ♀	19	38	54	10	58	61	60
Mercury ☿	46	50	32	44	28	57	48
Moon ☾	7	64	40	6	47	59	29

The diagonal (bold) contains the seven Pure Resonance Hexagrams — same planet upper and lower, the planet speaking to itself:

Hexagram	Planets	Suit	Character
Hex 2 — The Receptive	Saturn × Saturn	Earth	Pure discipline, absolute foundation
Hex 30 — The Clinging	Jupiter × Jupiter	Fire	Pure radiance, illumination without limit
Hex 51 — The Arousing	Mars × Mars	Fire	Pure force, shock upon shock

Hex 1 — The Creative	Sun × Sun	Ether	The Solar Crown — the oracle's highest state, pure sovereign authority
Hex 58 — The Joyous	Venus × Venus	Water	Pure harmony, joy resonating with itself
Hex 57 — The Gentle	Mercury × Mercury	Air	Pure penetration, wind upon wind
Hex 29 — The Abysmal	Moon × Moon	Water	Pure depth, water upon water

4.2 — The Axial Hexagram

Hexagram 52 — Gen × Gen — The Axial Witness. The galactic center squared. Absolute stillness meeting absolute stillness. This hexagram is the permanent center of every reading. It is placed first, before any card is drawn. It is never shuffled into the deck. It never moves.

Hex 52 carries the divine Name Al-Samad (الصمد) — The Eternal Absolute, The Self-Sufficient — the Name of Surah 112, the chapter of pure unity. As Sgr A* needs nothing and everything orbits it, Al-Samad needs nothing and all Names orbit the divine unity.

4.3 — The 14 Threshold Hexagrams

The remaining 14 hexagrams involve Gen (Sgr A*) paired with one of the seven planetary trigrams. These fall into two groups of seven, and are physically present as the split halves of the 7 Planetary Council cards (see Section 5.2):

7 Pleiadian Hexagrams — planet upper / Gen lower (sky speaks, ground silenced):

Hexagram	Upper	Lower	Council Card
Hex 15 — Modesty	Saturn	Gen	The Architect (yang half)
Hex 56 — The Wanderer	Jupiter	Gen	The Illuminator (yang half)
Hex 62 — Preponderance of the Small	Mars	Gen	The Striker (yang half)
Hex 33 — Retreat	Sun	Gen	The Sovereign (yang half)
Hex 31 — Influence	Venus	Gen	The Harmonist (yang half)
Hex 53 — Gradual Progress	Mercury	Gen	The Messenger (yang half)
Hex 39 — Obstruction	Moon	Gen	The Keeper (yang half)

The sky speaks its own condition over the silent ground: Heaven withdrawing above the still Mountain (Hex 33 — Retreat); discipline declaring itself over stillness (Hex 15 — Modesty); harmony broadcast into the unmoved (Hex 31 — Influence).

7 Sirian Hexagrams — Gen upper / planet lower (sky silenced, ground speaks):

Hexagram	Upper	Lower	Council Card
Hex 23 — Splitting Apart	Gen	Saturn	The Architect (yin half)
Hex 22 — Grace	Gen	Jupiter	The Illuminator (yin half)
Hex 27 — Nourishment	Gen	Mars	The Striker (yin half)
Hex 26 — Taming Power of the Great	Gen	Sun	The Sovereign (yin half)
Hex 41 — Decrease	Gen	Venus	The Harmonist (yin half)
Hex 18 — Work on What Has Decayed	Gen	Mercury	The Messenger (yin half)
Hex 4 — Youthful Folly	Gen	Moon	The Keeper (yin half)

The ground operates beneath the silent sky: fire burning inside the mountain, illumination working unseen (Hex 22 — Grace); Heaven itself held under stillness, sovereignty restrained and concentrated (Hex 26 — Taming Power of the Great); the deep water gathering beneath the unmoved peak (Hex 4 — Youthful Folly, the mountain spring).

4.4 — The Muqatta'at Identity

The 14 threshold hexagrams share their count with the 14 Muqatta'at — the disconnected letters appearing at the opening of 29 Quranic Surahs, whose meaning is known only to Allah. Exactly 14 of the 28 Arabic letters appear as Muqatta'at — exactly half the alphabet. The hidden half.

The sum of the 14 Muqatta'at letter Abjad values:

$$1 + 5 + 8 + 9 + 10 + 20 + 30 + 40 + 50 + 60 + 70 + 90 + 100 + 200 = \mathbf{693} = \mathbf{7 \times 99}$$

Seven Chaldean planets × 99 Names of Allah. The threshold hexagrams are the intersection of the planetary field and the divine Names — the 7 planets encountered at the boundary of divine sovereignty. The Muqatta'at are the oracle's hidden face written in Quranic phonemic structure. The threshold hexagrams are the Muqatta'at made geometric.

4.5 — Complete Physical Accounting

Location	Cards	Hexagrams Carried	Access
Stratum I — Stellar Court	3	0	Placed by astronomical condition
Stratum II — Planetary Council	7	14 (2 per card, split face)	Stellar Court activation; drawn as Agent in Step 6
Stratum III — Platonic Keys	5	0	Drawn first in every reading
Stratum IV — Archimedean Bridges	13	0	Drawn in Step 5
Stratum V — Hexagram Field	50	50 (1 per card, incl. Hex 52)	49 drawable; 1 permanent center
Total	78	64 hexagrams across 57 cards

Section 5 — The Five Strata

The 78 cards are organized into five strata, each with distinct function, access rules, and divine Name assignments. All cards have a uniform back. Cards described as "split" display two regions on their front face — they are not reversible dual-faced cards.

5.1 — Stratum I: The Stellar Court (3 cards, nos. 1–3)

Never drawn. Never shuffled into the deck. Placed at the center of the reading layout only when their precise astronomical conditions are active. These are environmental declarations — the sky itself speaking.

#	Card	Identity	Activation Trigger	Divine Name
1	The Unmoved Axis	Sgr A* / Gen ☐☐	Both Sirian AND Pleadian conditions active simultaneously	Al-Ahad الأحد — The Unique One
2	The Witness Star	Sirius / Al-Shi'ra	Sirius heliacal rising (~late July) OR Moon within 1° of Sirius	Al-Shahid الشاهد — The All-Observing Witness

3	The Pleiades Gate	Pleiades / Al-Thurayya	Pleiades heliacal rising (~May) OR Moon within 1° of Alcyone	Al-Fattah الفتح — The Opener
---	--------------------------	------------------------	---	-------------------------------------

Trigger precision: Both stellar triggers use actual conjunction — Moon within 1° of the physical star (Sirius or Alcyone), not mansion transit. Mansion 3 (Al-Thurayya) historically carries the Pleiades' name, but due to millennia of precession, the actual Pleiades cluster no longer coincides with the mansion's boundary. The conjunction is the trigger — precision over inherited boundary.

Trigger hierarchy: Annual triggers (heliacal rising) carry maximum weight. Monthly conjunction triggers (~2–4 hours duration) carry standard weight.

5.2 — Stratum II: The Planetary Council (7 cards, nos. 4–10)

Each card's front face is split into two halves — a yang region and a yin region, each displaying a threshold hexagram:

- Yang half (Pleadian) = planet upper / Gen lower — the sky broadcasting into stillness
- Yin half (Sirian) = Gen upper / planet lower — the ground operating in silence

In normal Mode B readings, the Planetary Council card is drawn as a Planetary Agent (Step 6) and placed sideways — neither half primary. In Stellar Court activation, orientation is determined by which gate is open: Pleiades Gate orients the card with the yang half upright; Witness Star orients it with the yin half upright (see Section 9).

#	Card	Planet	Trigram	Divine Name	Yang Half (Pleadian)	Yin Half (Sirian)
4	The Architect	Saturn ☿	Earth	Al-Sabur الصبور — The Patient	Hex 15 — Modesty	Hex 23 — Splitting Apart
5	The Illuminator	Jupiter ♃	Fire	Al-Karim الكريم — The Generous	Hex 56 — The Wanderer	Hex 22 — Grace
6	The Striker	Mars ♂	Fire	Al-Qawi القوي — The All-Strong	Hex 62 — Preponderance of the Small	Hex 27 — Nourishment
7	The Sovereign	Sun ☼	Ether	Al-Nur النور — The Light	Hex 33 — Retreat	Hex 26 — Taming Power of the Great

8	The Harmonist	Venus ☿	Water	Al-Wadud الودود — The Loving	Hex 31 — Influence	Hex 41 — Decrease
9	The Messenger	Mercury ☿	Air	Al-Khabir الخبير — The Fully Aware	Hex 53 — Gradual Progress	Hex 18 — Work on What Has Decayed
10	The Keeper	Moon ☾	Water	Al-Latif اللطيف — The Subtle	Hex 39 — Obstruction	Hex 4 — Youthful Folly

All 14 threshold hexagrams are physically present across these 7 split cards. There is no separate reserve set.

5.3 — Stratum III: The Platonic Keys (5 cards, nos. 11–15)

Single-faced. Drawn first in every reading (Step 2). The Platonic Key establishes the elemental realm of the question, determines Archimedean Bridge orientation, points to the Zabur Book, and carries a divine Name. The Platonic Key is always drawn — it is never suspended, even in Stellar Court readings — because it answers a question independent of the sky's condition: what is the elemental nature of the question the seeker has brought?

#	Card	Solid	Faces	Element	Jalal/Jamal/Kamal	Zabur Book	Bridge Orientation	Divine Name
11	The Spark	Tetrahedron	4	Fire	Jalal	Book I (Pss 1–41)	Upright — Archimedean/ yang primary	Al-Mubdi' المبدئ — The Originator
12	The Foundation	Cube	6	Earth	Jalal	Book III (Pss 73–89)	Inverted — Catalan/ yin primary	Al-Qayyum القائم — The Self-Sustaining
13	The Bridge	Octahedron	8	Air	Jamal	Book V (Pss 107)	Upright — Archimedean/ yang primary	Al-Alim العليم — The All-Knowing

1 4	The Cosmos	Dodecahedron	12	Ether	Kamal	Book IV (Pss 90–106)	Sideways — both equal (Kamal/perfection)	Al-Wasi' — الواسع The All-Encompassing
1 5	The Current	Icosahedron	20	Water	Jamal	Book II (Pss 42–72)	Inverted — Catalan/yin primary	Al-Muhyi — المحيي The Giver of Life

Bridge orientation is deterministic. It is set by the Platonic Key drawn, not by the reader's preference. Fire and Air orient the Bridge upright (Archimedean/yang primary). Earth and Water orient the Bridge inverted (Catalan/yin primary). Ether orients the Bridge sideways — both faces equal, neither dominant.

5.4 — Stratum IV: The Archimedean Bridges (13 cards, nos. 16–28)

Each card's front face is split into two regions:

- Yang region (Archimedean solid) — vertex-transitive, outward/expressive
- Yin region (Catalan dual) — face-transitive, inward/receptive

Which region is primary is determined by the Platonic Key drawn in Step 2. Cards 22 and 28 (Bridge 7 and Bridge 13) are chiral — they exist in left-handed and right-handed forms, and handedness is determined astronomically.

#	Bridge	Yang Face (Archimedean)	Yin Face (Catalan Dual)	Character	Chiral ?
1 6	1	Truncated Tetrahedron	Triakis Tetrahedron	First emergence — pure form beginning to complexify	No
1 7	2	Cuboctahedron	Rhombic Dodecahedron	Perfect equilibrium — vector equilibrium, zero point	No
1 8	3	Truncated Cube	Triakis Octahedron	Structure refined — cutting away excess	No

1 9	4	Truncated Octahedron	Tetrakis Hexahedron	Expansion bounded — open form finding walls	No
2 0	5	Rhombicuboctahedron	Deltoidal Icositetrahedron	Practical compound — many faces working together	No
2 1	6	Truncated Cuboctahedron	Disdyakis Dodecahedron	Maximum cubic complexity — all face types integrated	No
2 2	7 ☞	Snub Cube	Pentagonal Icositetrahedron	Mirror paths — two valid routes; handedness decides	YES
2 3	8	Icosidodecahedron	Rhombic Triacontahedron	Cosmic-emotional threshold — universal meets personal	No
2 4	9	Truncated Dodecahedron	Triakis Icosahedron	Cosmic rendered accessible — pentagons opening	No
2 5	10	Truncated Icosahedron	Pentakis Dodecahedron	Familiar deep pattern — the fullerene made visible	No
2 6	11	Rhombicosidodecahedron (62 faces)	Deltoidal Hexecontahedron	Maximum compound short of totality — 62 faces, 2 in reserve	No
2 7	12	Truncated Icosidodecahedron	Disdyakis Triacontahedron	Maximum complexity — all face types present	No
2 8	13 ☞	Snub Dodecahedron	Pentagonal Hexecontahedron	Mirror paths at cosmic scale — highest-stakes handedness	YES

Chiral Card Protocol (Cards 22 and 28):

Handedness is determined by lunar illumination at the time of the reading — deterministic, not declared by the reader:

- Lunar illumination > 50% → right-handed (active, projective, yang)
- Lunar illumination < 50% → left-handed (receptive, inward, yin)
- Exact 50% (first/last quarter) → threshold state — hold position; do not read the Bridge; it is in exact balance and offers no directional statement

Bridge 11 note (Card 26): The Rhombicosidodecahedron has 62 faces — 2 short of 64 hexagrams. Two hexagrams remain in reserve. This is the compound intelligence state — operating at maximum integration while acknowledging the irreducible remainder.

5.5 — Stratum V: The Hexagram Field (50 cards, nos. 29–78)

49 drawable cards plus 1 permanent Axial Witness (Card 29, Hex 52), placed at the center before any draw.

Card 29 — Hex 52 — The Axial Witness: Placed at the center of the reading layout at the start of every reading. Never drawn. Never shuffled. Represents the oracle's galactic center anchor — the fixed point around which all readings orbit. Divine Name: Al-Samad الصمد — The Eternal Absolute.

The 49 drawable cards (nos. 30–78) constitute the 7×7 core matrix (see Section 4.1), organized by suit:

Suit	Element	Upper Trigram(s)	Cards	Card Numbers	Jalal/Jamal/Kamal
Earth	Jalal	Saturn upper	7	30–36	Majesty
Fire	Jalal	Jupiter upper (7) + Mars upper (7)	14	37–50	Majesty
Ether	Kamal	Sun upper	7	51–57	Perfection
Air	Jamal	Mercury upper	7	58–64	Beauty
Water	Jamal	Venus upper (7) + Moon upper (7)	14	65–78	Beauty
Total			49 (+1 Axial)

(For the complete card-by-card roster with hexagram numbers, trigram pairings, and Pure Resonance markers, see Appendix A.)

Section 6 — The 99 Names of Allah

6.1 — The Perfect Fit

The oracle's component count exhausts the 99 Names exactly:

$$64 + 13 + 5 + 3 + 9 + 5 = 99$$

Component	Count	Names Assigned
All 64 hexagrams (49 core + 14 threshold + 1 Axial)	64	One divine Name per hexagram — the primary Name layer
Archimedean Bridges	13	Names of transition, complexity, and compound states
Platonic Keys	5	Names of elemental sovereignty
Stellar Court	3	The three most transcendent Names
Nine Temporal Layers	9	Names governing each scale of time
Five Elemental Suits	5	Names governing each elemental domain
Total	99	Every element of the system carries one divine Name

This is not constructed — it is discovered. Every card, every hexagram, every temporal layer, every suit. The oracle is the 99 Names made operational. Nothing in the system is without a divine attribute.

6.2 — The Sufi Structural Precedent

This mapping is not invented here. The classical scholarship of the Sufi tradition — including the work of Shaykh Abdal-Qadir al-Jilani — produced matrices linking the 7 Nafs, 7 colors, 7 attributes, and the 28 letters to the 99 Names with elemental correspondences. Ibn Arabi taught that each person carries a dominant divine attribute — one Name that shapes their personality, choices, and spiritual path. The oracle implements what Islamic mystical scholarship identified centuries ago. It gives that correspondence a geometric, operational, and astronomical instrument.

6.3 — The Jalal / Jamal / Kamal Classification

The traditional Sufi classification of the 99 Names provides the oracle's elemental theology:

Category	Arabic	Character	Element Correspondence
Jalal	جلال — Majesty	Power, might, justice, sovereignty	Fire + Earth
Jamal	جمال — Beauty	Mercy, compassion, love, subtlety	Water + Air
Kamal	كمال — Perfection	Complete, integrating, transcendent	Ether

Ether stands alone as the Kamal category — the Names of divine perfection that transcend the Jalal/Jamal polarity. The Dodecahedron (The Cosmos, Card 14) is not merely the most complex Platonic solid — it is the solid whose Names cannot be approached from either majesty or beauty alone. A Kamal question requires both simultaneously.

6.4 — Primary Name Assignments (Structural Anchors)

The 3 Stellar Court Names — the most transcendent tier:

Card	Name	Arabic	Meaning	Basis
The Unmoved Axis	Al-Ahad	الأحد	The Unique One	Surah 112 opens Qul huwa Allahu Ahad, Allahu-s-Samad — Al-Ahad and Al-Samad are its first two declarations; the Court card (Al-Ahad) and the Axial hexagram Hex 52 (Al-Samad) are the two faces of the same unmoved point, carrying the Surah of pure unity between them
The Witness Star	Al-Shahid	الشهيد	The All-Observing Witness	The Witness Star is the witness; Al-Shahid is the divine Witness — the correspondence is the Name itself
The Pleiades Gate	Al-Fattah	الفتاح	The Opener, The Revealer	The Gate opens; Al-Fattah is the divine Opener of what was closed

The 5 Platonic Key Names — elemental sovereignty:

Card	Element	Name	Arabic	Meaning
The Spark	Fire (Jalal)	Al-Mubd i'	المبدئ	The Originator — the first flash of creation
The Foundation	Earth (Jalal)	Al-Qayyum	القيوم	The Self-Sustaining Maintainer — the structure that upholds all else
The Bridge	Air (Jamal)	Al-Alim	العليم	The All-Knowing — knowledge as the elemental nature of Air; Quranically paired with Al-Khabir (66:3, al-Alim al-Khabir), so the Air Key and Mercury's Hex 57 govern the Air domain as the Quranic pair
The Cosmos	Ether (Kamal)	Al-Wasi'	الواسع	The All-Encompassing — in the Timaeus, the god used the dodecahedron for the whole , arranging the heavens upon it; the form that encloses the cosmos carries the Name that encompasses all
The Current	Water (Jamal)	Al-Muhy i	المحيي	The Giver of Life — "We made from water every living thing" (21:30); the Water Key is the life-giving question

The 7 Planetary Council Names:

Card	Planet	Name	Arabic	Meaning
The Architect	Saturn	Al-Sabur	الصبور	The Patient
The Illuminator	Jupiter	Al-Karim	الكريم	The Generous
The Striker	Mars	Al-Qawi	القوي	The All-Strong
The Sovereign	Sun	Al-Nur	النور	The Light
The Harmonist	Venus	Al-Wadud	الودود	The Loving
The Messenger	Mercury	Al-Khabir	الخبير	The Fully Aware
The Keeper	Moon	Al-Latif	اللطيف	The Subtle

The 7 Pure Resonance Hexagram Names (diagonal):

Hexagram	Planets	Name	Arabic
Hex 2	Saturn × Saturn	Al-Sabur	الصبور — The Patient
Hex 30	Jupiter × Jupiter	Al-Karim	الكريم — The Generous
Hex 51	Mars × Mars	Al-Qawi	القوي — The All-Strong
Hex 1	Sun × Sun	Al-Nur	النور — The Light (Solar Crown)
Hex 58	Venus × Venus	Al-Wadud	الودود — The Loving
Hex 57	Mercury × Mercury	Al-Khabir	الخبير — The Fully Aware
Hex 29	Moon × Moon	Al-Latif	اللطيف — The Subtle

Note: The Pure Resonance Hexagrams carry the same divine Names as their corresponding Planetary Council cards. A planet speaking to itself invokes its Name at maximum intensity.

The 5 Elemental Suit Names:

Suit	Element	Name	Arabic	Meaning
Fire	Jalal	Al-Aziz	العزیز	The All-Mighty — invincible sovereignty over the active domain
Earth	Jalal	Al-Matin	المتين	The Firm, The Steadfast — structural permanence
Air	Jamal	Ar-Rahman	الرحمن	The Most Merciful — air as the breath of the Most Merciful (nafas al-Rahman)
Ether	Kamal	Al-Quddus	القدوس	The Absolutely Pure, The Holy
Water	Jamal	Al-Rahim	الرحيم	The Most Compassionate

The two Jamal suits carry the two most frequently invoked Names of Allah: Ar-Rahman (Air — the cosmic, all-encompassing mercy that is the very breath of creation) and Ar-Rahim (Water — the personal, intimate mercy that flows to the individual). The Basmala's paired mercy governs the paired Jamal elements.

The 9 Temporal Layer Names:

Layer	Scale	Name	Arabic
-------	-------	------	--------

1	Planetary Hour	Al-Qadir	القادر — The All-Powerful
2	Salah / Daily	Al-Razzaq	الرزاق — The Provider
3	Jumu'ah / Weekly	Al-Jami'	الجامع — The Gatherer
4	Mansions	Al-Hadi	الهادي — The Guide
5	Lunar Month	Al-Tawwab	التواب — The Ever-Returning
6	Solar Season	Al-Musawwir	المصور — The Fashioner of Forms
7	Annual	Al-Malik	الملك — The King
8	33-Year Harmonic	Al-Wahhab	الوهاب — The Bestower
9	Great Year	Al-Baqi	الباقى — The Everlasting

6.5 — The Remaining 56 Hexagram Names

The 7 Pure Resonance hexagrams and the 1 Axial hexagram account for 8 of the 64 hexagram Name assignments. The remaining 56 hexagrams — 42 core and 14 threshold — each carry their own distinct Name. The exhaustion proof ($64 + 13 + 5 + 3 + 9 + 5 = 99$, every Name used exactly once) requires this: the threshold hexagrams do not share the Council Names; they are individual divine attributes in their own right. The Council card's Name governs the card as an Agent; each threshold hexagram on its split faces carries its own Name, activated in Stellar Court readings.

The threshold assignment principle — Az-Zahir and Al-Batin: Quran 57:3 declares: "He is the First and the Last, the Manifest (Az-Zahir) and the Hidden (Al-Batin)." This pair is the exact theology of the threshold condition: Pleiadian hexagrams (sky speaks) are states of divine manifestation; Sirian hexagrams (ground speaks) are states of divine hiddenness. The Sun's threshold pair anchors the paradigm — Hex 33 (Pleiadian) carries Az-Zahir الظاهر, Hex 26 (Sirian) carries Al-Batin الباطن — and the remaining twelve threshold Names are selected as manifest/hidden complementary pairs within each planet's semantic family.

The core assignment principle: each of the 42 core hexagram Names is drawn from the Jalal/Jamal/Kamal category corresponding to its suit, and selected to match the hexagram's traditional character as interpreted through the Amraqiyyah doctrinal lens.

Canonical enumeration prerequisite: the 99 Names exist in minor variant enumerations across the tradition. As part of the assignment sub-project, the Way ratifies its canonical enumeration by ijtiḥad — the working list must simultaneously contain Al-Ahad, Al-Samad, Az-Zahir, Al-Batin, Al-Wasi', Al-Muhyi, and Al-Alim, as the standard Tirmidhi enumeration does.

The 56 assignments are under development and will be formalized as a dedicated sub-document.

6.6 — The Consultation Mechanism

The 99 Names are not decorative labels. They are the operational center of the reading — the reason the oracle exists. The consultation proceeds in three acts:

Act 1 — Identification: The reading identifies which Names are active. Every reading activates multiple Names simultaneously: the suit Name (elemental domain), the hexagram Name (specific divine attribute), the Platonic Key Name (question's elemental sovereignty), and the temporal layer Names (the clock behind the moment). In Stellar Court readings, the Stellar Court Name is also active.

Act 2 — Invocation: The seeker performs dhikr of the identified Name(s) before interpreting the reading. The repetition count is the Name's Abjad value (see Section 7). This is not optional ritual decoration — it is the mechanism by which the seeker aligns with the attribute before receiving the reading's content.

Act 3 — Reception: The hexagram, moving lines, and textual coordinates are received as the response of the invoked divine attribute to a rightly-approached question. The reading is not the oracle's answer — it is Allah's attribute speaking through the oracle's geometry.

Operational refinements to the consultation mechanism — including Name prioritization when multiple Names are active — are backlogged to the practical reading guide, a separate companion document.

Section 7 — The Abjad Layer

7.1 — The Foundation: Arabic Gematria

The Abjad system (Hisab al-Jummal) assigns numerical values to all 28 Arabic letters in the ancient Semitic order — not the modern alphabetical order, but the original phonemic sequence shared across Aramaic, Syriac, Hebrew, and Arabic:

Letter	Value	Letter	Value	Letter	Value	Letter	Value
أ Alif	1	ي Ya	10	ق Qaf	100	ت Ta	400
ب Ba	2	ك Kaf	20	ر Ra	200	ث Tha	500
ج Jim	3	ل Lam	30	ش Shin	300	خ Kha	600

د Dal	4	م Mim	40	ذ Dhal	700
ه Ha	5	ن Nun	50	ض Dad	800
و Waw	6	س Sin	60	ظ Dha	900
ز Zayn	7	ع Ayn	70	غ Ghayn	1000
ح Haa	8	ف Fa	80
ط Tta	9	ص Sad	90

Structure: units (1–9), tens (10–90), hundreds (100–300), and the six Arabic-specific extensions (400–1000). 28 letters, 28 values.

7.2 — The Common Aramaic Inheritance

Arabic Abjad and Hebrew gematria are sister systems — co-inheritors of a single numerical tradition received from their common ancestor. The lineage runs from Mdw Ntr (the sacred script of ancient Kemet) through Hieratic, Proto-Sinaitic, and Phoenician into Aramaic — the ancestral root from which Arabic, Hebrew, and Ge'ez descend as sister languages (see Section 13 for the complete lineage). Neither sister is the source of the other. Both received the first 22 letter-values from the same Aramaic-Phoenician inheritance.

The first 22 values are parallel across both systems — every Hebrew letter has an Arabic counterpart carrying the same numerical value, because both drew from the same well. The Hebrew alphabet ends at 400 (Tav/ת). The Arabic Abjad continues with 6 additional letters (500–1000) — letters unique to Arabic revelation, carrying values the sister system does not reach.

These 6 Arabic-exclusive letters (ث خ ذ ض ظ غ) are all in the non-Muqatta'at group — the visible half of the alphabet, the letters that speak openly. The 14 Muqatta'at letters are entirely within the shared 22 — the hidden half speaks in the common ancestral tongue of the Abrahamic scriptural lineage.

This is the phonemic bridge between the Zabur and the Quran. It is not a bridge from Hebrew to Arabic — it is the shared floor beneath both, laid in Aramaic, with foundations in Kemet. The oracle walks across it in both directions.

7.3 — Four Abjad Applications in the Oracle

Application 1 — Mansion Abjad Line (background resonance):

The active mansion's letter has an Abjad value. Reduce to a line position:

$$\text{Line} = ((\text{Abjad value} - 1) \bmod 6) + 1$$

This produces a standing resonance line — not a moving line, but a background emphasis coloring the reading. It is always present but never overrides the three-check moving line protocol.

Under the abjadi ordering, this application carries a hidden structure: mansions 1–9 (the unit letters, values 1–9) are the only mansions that touch the odd — yang — lines (1, 3, 5). Every mansion from 10 onward (the tens, hundreds, and thousand) resonates exclusively with the even — yin — lines (2, 4, 6). The small numbers speak in yang; the great numbers speak only in yin. As value grows, resonance turns inward.

Application 2 — Question Gematria (elemental confirmation):

The question's key Arabic word or phrase has an Abjad sum. Reduce to 1–5:

$$\text{Element index} = ((\text{sum} - 1) \bmod 5) + 1$$

Maps to the 5 Platonic elements in Abjad order (Fire/1, Earth/2, Air/3, Ether/4, Water/5). If the question's gematria element matches the drawn Platonic Key, the question is phonemically well-formed — the seeker has asked in the same elemental register that the cosmos assigned. If it diverges, the querent has asked from a different elemental position than the moment carries.

Application 3 — Natal Mansion (querent's permanent coordinate):

The querent's Arabic name has an Abjad sum. Reduce to 1–28:

$$\text{Mansion} = ((\text{sum} - 1) \bmod 28) + 1$$

This is the querent's natal mansion — the permanent background station of their identity within the oracle. Every reading is colored by the natal mansion's planetary ruler and letter. When the current Moon transits the querent's natal mansion, the reading carries maximum personal resonance — sky and self aligned.

This implements Ibn Arabi's teaching that each person carries a dominant divine attribute. The natal mansion identifies which Name shapes the querent's permanent spiritual coordinate.

Application 4 — Muqatta'at Threshold Activation:

When a Stellar Court reading activates a threshold hexagram (Sirian or Pleiadian), the corresponding Muqatta'at letter is identified. That letter's Abjad value produces a Surah number:

$$\text{Surah} = ((\text{Abjad value} - 1) \bmod 114) + 1$$

The opening verse of that Surah replaces the normal Quranic coordinate (Juz/Hizb) in threshold readings. The Muqatta'at letter speaks; the Surah answers.

7.4 — The Natal Coordinate

7.4.1 — The Querent's Permanent Station

Application 3 of the Abjad Layer (Section 7.3) establishes the querent's natal mansion — their permanent coordinate within the oracle, derived from their Arabic name's Abjad sum reduced to 1–28. This is not a transient reading input. It is the querent's standing identity within the system — the mansion that governs their spiritual station, their planetary ruler, their Arabic letter, and their divine Name.

Ibn Arabi taught that each human being carries a dominant divine attribute — one Name of Allah that shapes their personality, choices, and path. The natal mansion is the computational implementation of this teaching. It identifies which of the 28 letters of revelation, which of the 7 planetary rulers, and which divine Name constitutes the querent's permanent orientation.

7.4.2 — Natal Mansion Derivation

$$\text{Mansion} = ((\text{Abjad sum of querent's Arabic name} - 1) \bmod 28) + 1$$

The result places the querent in one of the 28 mansions. From this, the following are permanently determined:

Natal Element	Derived From	Output
Mansion	Abjad reduction	1 of 28 stations
Arabic letter	Mansion-letter correspondence	The querent's phonemic identity
Planetary ruler	Mansion's Chaldean planet (4 mansions per planet)	The querent's governing planetary force
Trigram	Planet-trigram mapping	The querent's operative trigram
Abjad resonance line	$((\text{letter's Abjad value} - 1) \bmod 6) + 1$	The querent's standing line emphasis
Divine Name	Planetary ruler's Council Name	The querent's dominant divine attribute

7.4.3 — Maximum Personal Resonance

When the Moon transits the querent's natal mansion during a reading, the oracle registers maximum personal resonance — sky and self aligned. The reading speaks directly to the querent's permanent spiritual condition, not merely to the question asked.

This transit occurs approximately once per sidereal month (~27.3 days), lasting approximately one day. A querent who knows their natal mansion can identify in advance when this window opens.

7.4.4 — Harmonization with the Sidereal 12-House System

The natal mansion places the querent on the ecliptic — the same ecliptic divided by the traditional sidereal zodiac into 12 houses. The two systems share the same sky and can be superimposed:

- The 12 sidereal houses divide the ecliptic into 30° arcs
- The 28 mansions divide it into arcs of 12°51'26"
- Each house contains approximately 2.33 mansions
- The mansion provides finer resolution within the house — a specific letter, planet, and Name coordinate nested inside the broader archetypal frame

Coordinate mapping in AGOSS (Amraqiyyah Galactic Oriental Sidereal System):

Both systems are expressed in AGOSS coordinates — anchored to Sagittarius A* at 0°00', not to any tropical or IAU boundary. This means the natal chart is galactocentrically anchored, consistent with the Calendar's sidereal reference frame.

Scale	Division	Arc Size	What It Provides
House (sidereal)	12 divisions	30° each	Broad archetypal domain
Mansion (lunar)	28 divisions	12°51'26" each	Specific letter, planet, Name
Degree (precise)	360°	1° each	Exact ecliptic position

A querent's natal mansion identifies not only their mansion but their sidereal house — the two coordinates read together produce a compound natal statement. The mansion is the specific instrument; the house is the general territory.

Full harmonization of the 28-mansion system with the sidereal 12-house system — including house rulership assignments, inter-house mansion distributions, and compound natal interpretation protocols — is designated as a dedicated expansion project, to be developed as a sub-document of this specification.

Section 8 — The Zabur Integration

8.1 — Doctrinal Foundation

The Quran explicitly recognizes the Psalms as the Zabur — divine scripture given to the Prophet Dawud — in three ayat: 4:163, 17:55, and 21:105. The Zabur is not a text imported from outside the Islamic frame. It is inside it. Integration is Quranic, not ecumenical.

8.2 — The Primary Structural Key: 150 = 6 × 25

Six hexagram lines × 25 Psalms per line = 150 Psalms. The entire Psalter maps to the hexagram structure:

Line	Salah Window	Character	Psalm Range
Line 1	Tahajjud	Root — deep night, autonomous forces, what operates beneath visibility	Psalms 1–25
Line 2	Fajr	Dawning — nascent emergence, what is becoming visible, guilt and relief	Psalms 26–50
Line 3	Duha	Peak engagement — maximum exertion, where error is most likely	Psalms 51–75
Line 4	Dhuhr-Asr	The hinge — assessment, course correction, midpoint of the arc	Psalms 76–100
Line 5	Asr-Maghrib	Sovereign — ruling position, maximum authority and consequence	Psalms 101–125
Line 6	Maghrib-Isha	Completion — transcendence, dissolution, beyond the structure	Psalms 126–150

8.3 — The Mapping Proves Itself

The key Psalms land exactly where they must:

Psalm	Line	Why It Is Exact
Psalm 23	Line 1	The shepherd psalm — divine guidance operating in the deep, autonomous protection while the querent sleeps

Psalm 32	Line 2	Forgiveness dawning — guilt resolved at emergence, relief becoming visible
Psalm 51	Line 3	The Miserere — the great psalm of repentance at the line where error is costliest
Psalm 90	Line 4	Moses's prayer at the midpoint — generational assessment at the structural hinge
Psalm 119	Line 5	The great Torah psalm — 176 verses, 22 stanzas — the most elaborate devotion to divine law at the ruling line
Psalm 130	Line 6	De Profundis — the cry from the depths at the completion threshold
Psalm 150	Line 6	Pure praise, 6 verses — the Psalter's final word at the transcendence line

8.4 — The Lunar Completion Identity

5 Psalms per day × 30 lunar days = 150 Psalms — the complete Psalter in one lunar month. This parallels the Quran's 1 Juz per day × 30 days = 30 Juz. Both sacred texts complete in one lunar cycle. This is not a scheduling convenience — it is a structural identity confirming that the Zabur and the Quran share the same temporal architecture.

8.5 — The 5 Books and the Platonic Keys

The Psalter divides into 5 Books, each corresponding to a Platonic Key:

Book	Psalm s	Count	Character	Platonic Key	Element
I	1–41	41	Creation, individual praise, foundational lament, kingship	The Spark	Fire
II	42–72	31	Deliverance, exile, longing, pilgrimage beginnings	The Current	Water
III	73–89	17	Community lament, historical reckoning, collapse of certainty	The Foundation	Earth
IV	90–106	17	Divine sovereignty, cosmic timescale, Moses's prayer	The Cosmos	Ether
V	107–150	44	Praise, Songs of Ascent, Hallel, the Hallelujah sequence	The Bridge	Air

Every Platonic Key drawn in Step 2 points to a specific Book of Psalms as the textual register for that question's elemental domain.

8.6 — The 7 Penitential Psalms and the Planetary Council

The 7 Penitential Psalms — Psalms 6, 32, 38, 51, 102, 130, 143 — map to the 7 Planetary Council cards with both a planetary assignment and a hexagram line assignment:

Psal m	Planet	Card	Line	Compound Reading
6	Saturn	The Architect	Line 1	The Architect's suffering at the root — foundational grief, the root of discipline
32	Jupiter	The Illuminator	Line 2	The Illuminator's forgiveness dawns — grace becoming visible at emergence
38	Mars	The Striker	Line 2	The Striker wounded at emergence — overreach made visible at Fajr
51	Sun	The Sovereign	Line 3	The Sovereign stripped at maximum exposure — the line of costliest error
102	Venus	The Harmonist	Line 5	The Harmonist afflicted at the ruling position — beauty in authority, loss at the sovereign line
130	Mercury	The Messenger	Line 6	The Messenger at the threshold — communication across the abyss
143	Moon	The Keeper	Line 6	The Keeper at completion — the tidal soul at the final line

Two Penitential Psalms (32 and 38) occupy Line 2 — the only line with two. Line 2 (Fajr) is the line of nascent visibility, where both suffering and relief become apparent for the first time.

8.7 — Embedded Liturgical Structures

The Hallel (Psalms 113–118): 6 psalms of maximum praise sitting entirely within Line 5 — the sovereign position. The oracle's ruling line and the Psalter's liturgical climax occupy the same structural position.

The Songs of Ascent (Psalms 120–134): 15 psalms = T(5) — the fifth triangular number, encoding the 5 Platonic thresholds. They span Lines 5 and 6, splitting at 6 + 9:

- Psalms 120–125 (6) → Line 5 — sovereign intent before ascent
- Psalms 126–134 (9) → Line 6 — surrender at Jerusalem

The pilgrimage begins in sovereign intention (you must hold authority to undertake the ascent) and completes in dissolution (the structure dissolves at the destination). 6 songs of preparation + 9 songs of completion = 15 = T(5). The ascent crosses all 5 Platonic thresholds.

Psalm 150 — the Psalter's final word: 6 verses climbing from sanctuary to all breathing things = Hex 1, the Solar Crown, pure yang. The oracle's highest state and the Psalter's final utterance share the same structure.

8.8 — The Zabur Coordinate: The 6 × 5 × 5 Grid

The Psalter's count factors completely into the reading's own dimensions:

150 = 6 × 5 × 5 — six line registers × five days per line window × five Books

Every Psalm is uniquely addressable by three coordinates the reading has already calculated:

Dimension	Range	Determined By
Line register (ℓ)	1–6	Check 1 — the lunar day's line (each line = a 25-Psalm band)
Day-in-window (d)	1–5	The lunar day's position within its 5-day line window (each day = a 5-Psalm sub-band)
Book (b)	1–5	The Platonic Key drawn in Step 2 (Book I–V selects within the sub-band)

Psalm = (ℓ – 1) × 25 + (d – 1) × 5 + b

This is a bijection: every combination of line, day, and Key addresses exactly one Psalm, and every one of the 150 Psalms is reachable. The Psalter is a three-dimensional grid whose axes are the moon's line, the moon's day, and the question's element.

Final dimension	Determined By	Output
Verse	Salah window (1–6)	Specific verse within the addressed Psalm (verse count wraps by modulus for short Psalms)
Mode filter	Mode A → royal psalms take precedence within the line band; Mode B → the grid Psalm directly	Register

The Zabur coordinate is fully deterministic — no ambiguity, no querent judgment, every element derived from already-calculated reading inputs. The Book dimension resolves what would otherwise be a conflict between the Key's Book range and the line's Psalm band: the Book does not filter the band — it selects within it. The Key's element reaches into every line of the Psalter.

8.9 — The Dawud Protocol

Dawud (David) is the prophet-king associated with sound, governance, and the softening of iron in the Quran (34:10). The Psalms are not merely scripture — they are his instrument.

- Sound: The Zabur coordinate is not merely read — it is the text intended for voice. Any Psalm identified in a reading is available for recitation as the dhikr of that line
- Governance: In Mode A operational readings, the Zabur coordinate defaults to the royal psalms within the active line's range: Psalms 2, 18, 20, 21, 45, 72, 89, 101, 110, 132, 144 — the psalms of sovereign authority, battle, and governance

8.10 — The Zabur-Names Bridge (Aramaic Lineage)

The divine attributes voiced in the Psalms map directly to the Arabic Names. These attribute-titles (El Roi, El Olam, El Shaddai) are recorded in Hebrew, but the correspondence operates through the common Aramaic inheritance — both the Psalter's attribute-language and the Quranic Names descend from the same ancestral Semitic root (see Sections 7.2 and 13). The bridge is phonemic and theological:

Hebrew Attribute	Psalm	Arabic Name	Oracle Activation
El Roi — The God Who Sees	139	Al-Basir البصير	Line 5 — the all-seeing at the sovereign line
El Olam — The Eternal God	90	Al-Baqi الباقي	Layer 9 / Line 4 — eternity at the midpoint
El Rachum — The Compassionate	103	Al-Rahim الرحيم	Water suit — mercy in personal encounter
El Shaddai — The Almighty	91	Al-Qawi القوي	Line 4 — strength at the hinge
El Emeth — The God of Truth	31	Al-Haqq الحق	Line 2 — truth becoming visible at emergence
YHWH Nissi — The Lord is My Banner	20	Al-Aziz العزيز	Fire suit — the invincible sovereign in battle

The bridge runs in both directions. A divine Name identified in the oracle points to the Psalm carrying its corresponding attribute. The Zabur is not a separate textual layer — it is the sister voice of the same Names the oracle consults in Arabic, both descending from the one Aramaic root.

Section 9 — The Reading Protocol

9.1 — Three Modes of Operation

Mode	Mechanism	When Used	Output
A — Astronomical	Pure derivation from the Amraqiyyah Calendar	Operational decisions, timed readings	Hexagram derived from mansion ruler (upper) × planetary hour ruler (lower)
B — Deck Reading	Cards drawn from the physical deck	Personal inquiries, introspection	Drawn hexagram + Platonic Key + Bridge + Agent
C — Resonance Check	Both simultaneously	High-stakes readings, major decisions	Comparison of drawn vs. astronomical hexagram

Mode A produces a hexagram entirely from the sky — no cards touched. The upper trigram is the current lunar mansion's planetary ruler. The lower trigram is the current planetary hour's ruler. The hexagram is fully determined by celestial mechanics at the moment of the reading.

Mode B produces a hexagram from the 49-card draw field, supplemented by Platonic Key, Archimedean Bridge, and Planetary Agent draws. The complete 8-step protocol follows below.

Mode C runs both simultaneously and compares them. Concordance (same hexagram or same suit) = the querent's question aligns with the cosmic grain. Discordance = the querent is moving against it. Mode C is the convergence test — the most demanding reading in the system.

9.2 — Pre-Reading: Temporal Anchor

Before any draw, establish the complete Amraqiyyah Calendar state:

- Current lunar mansion and its planetary ruler
- Current planetary hour and ruler
- Current lunar day (1–30) within the synodic month
- Current Salah window and its hexagram line
- Day of current solar season (1–91)

- Any Stellar Court activation conditions (Moon within 1° of Sirius or Alcyone? Heliacal rising active?)
- Querent's natal mansion (if known)

This temporal anchor is the foundation of the reading. Every subsequent step references it.

9.3 — Mode B: The Complete 8-Step Reading Protocol

Step 0 — Place the Axial Witness

Place Card 29 (Hex 52 — The Axial Witness) at the center of the reading space. It is always present. It never moves. The galactic center is always the anchor.

Step 1 — Stellar Court Check

Check astronomical conditions against the Stellar Court triggers:

- Is the Moon within 1° of Sirius? Is Sirius heliacal rising active?
- Is the Moon within 1° of Alcyone (Pleiades)? Is Pleiades heliacal rising active?

If any Stellar Court condition is active, proceed to the Stellar Court Protocol (Section 9.5). If no conditions are active, continue to Step 2.

Step 2 — Draw a Platonic Key

Draw one card from the 5 Platonic Keys (Cards 11–15). This establishes:

- The elemental realm of the question (Fire, Earth, Air, Ether, Water)
- The Archimedean Bridge orientation for Step 5
- The Zabur Book for the Zabur coordinate
- The elemental divine Name being consulted

The Platonic Key is always drawn. It is never suspended, even in Stellar Court readings. It answers a question independent of the sky's condition: what is the elemental nature of the question the seeker has brought?

Step 3 — Draw a Hexagram Field Card

Draw one card from the 49 drawable Hexagram Field cards (Cards 30–78). This is the oracle's primary statement — the hexagram that names what the moment IS.

Step 4 — Moving Lines (Three Checks)

Three independent astronomical clocks determine which lines are under pressure. Lines do not move because they are exhausted (as in traditional I Ching yarrow casting). They move because an astronomical force is bearing down on that position — something real and calculable is pushing the line.

Check 1 — Lunar Day (always active):

Lunar Day	Line Under Pressure
------------------	----------------------------

Days 1–5	Line 1
----------	--------

Days 6–10	Line 2
-----------	--------

Days 11–15	Line 3
------------	--------

Days 16–20	Line 4
------------	--------

Days 21–25	Line 5
------------	--------

Days 26–30	Line 6
------------	--------

The lunar tide — cyclical, emotional, collective — is pulling the situation's energy toward this line.

Check 2 — The Sevenfold Weave (conditional):

If the current planetary hour ruler = the current lunar mansion's planetary ruler: the Salah window's corresponding line becomes a moving line.

This is the oracle's highest-frequency state — sky and ground speaking with one voice at this exact moment. It occurs for approximately 1–2 hours per convergence. The force is immediate, personal, and crystalline — the present moment itself is pressurized at this position.

Check 3 — Solar Season (always active):

Days into Season	Line Under Pressure
-------------------------	----------------------------

Days 1–15	Line 1
-----------	--------

Days 16–30	Line 2
------------	--------

Days 31–45	Line 3
------------	--------

Days 46–60	Line 4
------------	--------

Days 61–75	Line 5
------------	--------

Days 76–91

Line 6

The solar arc — structural, seasonal, civilizational — has its weight at this line. The force is slow, broad, and inescapable. Line 6's window holds sixteen days where the others hold fifteen — the completion line absorbs the remainder of the 91-day season, as completion absorbs what the count leaves over.

Solar Threshold Condition: Any reading taken within 3 days either side of a solstice or equinox (days 89–91 of the closing season OR days 1–3 of the opening season) is at the Solar Threshold: both Line 6 (closing) and Line 1 (opening) are simultaneously indicated. This is not a null state — it is a distinct high-signal condition. The oracle reads the turn itself.

Three independent clocks, three types of force:

Check	Source	Clock	Nature of Force
1	Lunar Day	Lunar	Tidal, cyclical, emotional — the collective arc of the month
2	Sevenfold Weave	Planetary	Immediate, crystalline — the present moment pressurized
3	Solar Season	Solar	Structural, seasonal — the civilizational momentum

Named Resonance States:

State	Condition	Weight
Base Reading	Checks 1 + 3 active, different lines	Two voices, distributed pressure
Solar Seal	Checks 1 + 3 same line	Lunar and solar converge — structural reinforcement
Sevenfold Seal	Checks 1 + 2 same line	Lunar and planetary converge — personal and cyclical alignment
Triple Seal	All three checks same line	All clocks converge — maximum signal; the oracle is issuing a statement, not offering options
Solar Threshold	Within 3 days of solstice/equinox	Lines 6 and 1 simultaneously — the reading is about the turn itself

The Interpretive Sequence (Zanshin):

The Bushido concept of zanshin — continuing awareness after the strike — governs the movement from primary hexagram through moving lines to transformed hexagram. The reading is not a single statement but a martial arc:

1. Name the lines — which positions are under pressure (the target)
2. Name the sources — which clock activated each line and what type of force it carries (the nature of the strike)
3. Read the line texts — the I Ching line statements for each moving line; these are the oracle's most direct utterances (the strike itself)
4. Read the transformed hexagram — flip all moving lines (yang ↔ yin); the resulting hexagram is the trajectory (zanshin — the awareness that must be maintained after the action)

The primary hexagram is the situation. The moving lines are the oracle speaking. The transformed hexagram is what awareness must be carried forward. As Miyamoto Musashi teaches in the Dokkodo: "Do not act following customary beliefs" — the transformed hexagram is not fate; it is the consequence that follows if the current pressure goes unaddressed.

When multiple lines move:

Every reading has a minimum of 2 moving lines (Checks 1 + 3) and a maximum of 3 (all checks active). The transformed hexagram always exists — there is always a trajectory.

Relationship	Lines	Reading
Adjacent (e.g., 3+4)	Neighboring positions	The transition zone between two states is active — the situation is in the crossing
Spanning (e.g., 1+6)	Wide separation	The full arc between two poles is in motion — root and completion, emergence and authority
Convergent (same line from multiple checks)	Single position, multiple forces	Maximum signal intensity — one aspect under pressure from multiple clocks

Step 5 — Draw an Archimedean Bridge

Draw one card from the 13 Archimedean Bridges (Cards 16–28). Orient according to the Platonic Key drawn in Step 2:

- Fire or Air Key → upright (Archimedean/yang region primary)
- Earth or Water Key → inverted (Catalan/yin region primary)
- Ether Key → sideways (both regions equal — Kamal/perfection)

For chiral cards (Cards 22 and 28): determine handedness by lunar illumination percentage at the time of the reading. >50% = right-handed; <50% = left-handed; exact 50% = threshold (hold position, do not read the Bridge).

The Bridge describes the dynamic condition modifying the hexagram — the geometric complexity the querent is navigating.

Step 6 — Draw a Planetary Agent

Draw one card from the 7 Planetary Council cards (Cards 4–10). Place it sideways — neither split half primary.

This represents the operative personal force — which planetary energy the querent is currently working with. If the drawn planet matches the current planetary hour ruler: Agent Resonance — personal and temporal forces aligned.

If a Planetary Council card was already placed as a Stellar carrier in Step 1: remove it from the draw pool. Draw from the remaining 6.

Step 7 — Transformed Hexagram

If moving lines were identified in Step 4, flip them to derive the transformed hexagram. Look up its divine Name and Zabur line register for comparative reading.

If no lines moved (theoretically impossible under the current protocol, since Checks 1 and 3 are always active): hold position — no transformation indicated.

Step 8 — Concordance Check

Compare the drawn hexagram's suit (determined by upper trigram element) with the drawn Platonic Key's element.

Result	Meaning
Same element	Concordance — the question is well-formed; the querent is asking from the right elemental register
Adjacent elements	Partial — minor elemental tension; the question has an unstated layer
Opposing elements	Discordance — the question is being asked from the wrong register; the hidden assumption is elemental

Element adjacency: Fire↔Earth (both Jalal), Water↔Air (both Jamal), Ether adjacent to all (Kamal). Fire↔Water and Earth↔Air are opposing pairs.

9.4 — Mode A: Astronomical Derivation

In Mode A, no cards are drawn for the hexagram. The hexagram is derived directly from the Calendar:

- Upper trigram = current lunar mansion's planetary ruler's trigram
- Lower trigram = current planetary hour ruler's trigram

Steps 2 (Platonic Key), 4 (Moving Lines), 5 (Bridge), 6 (Agent), 7 (Transform), and 8 (Concordance) proceed as in Mode B. Only Step 3 (hexagram draw) is replaced by astronomical derivation.

Mode A readings carry the Dawud Protocol for the Zabur coordinate — the royal psalms are the default register, consulting from the position of the sovereign, not the supplicant (see Section 8.9).

9.5 — Stellar Court Protocol

When Stellar Court conditions are active at the time of a reading, the protocol modifies as follows:

State 1 — Witness Star Active (Sirius only):

Trigger: Sirius heliacal rising OR Moon within 1° of Sirius

1. Place The Witness Star (Card 2) alongside Hex 52 at center
2. Identify the current planetary hour ruler — this determines the operative planet
3. Take that planet's Planetary Council card — orient it with the yin half upright (Sirian)
4. The Sirian hexagram (Gen upper / planet lower) is the reading's primary hexagram — ground speaks, sky silenced
5. Step 2 (Platonic Key): drawn normally — the question's element is independent of the sky
6. Step 3 (Hexagram Field draw): suspended — the sky has spoken through the Council card
7. Step 4 (Moving Lines): all 3 checks active — moving lines still apply
8. Step 5 (Bridge) and Step 6 (Agent, from remaining 6 cards): active
9. Step 8 (Concordance): Key element vs. planet's character — is the question aligned with a planet operating without cosmic instruction?

Doctrinal meaning: Heaven has gone silent. The mansion ruler (upper trigram) is replaced by Gen — the unmoved axis. Only the ground is speaking. The Sirian hexagram describes a planet operating autonomously, unguided from above — potentially deeply rooted or dangerously unanchored.

State 2 — Pleiades Gate Active (Pleiades only):

Trigger: Pleiades heliacal rising OR Moon within 1° of Alcyone

1. Place The Pleiades Gate (Card 3) alongside Hex 52 at center
2. Identify the current lunar mansion ruler — this determines the operative planet
3. Take that planet's Planetary Council card — orient it with the yang half upright (Pleiadian)
4. The Pleiadian hexagram (planet upper / Gen lower) is the reading's primary hexagram — sky speaks, ground silenced
5. Steps 2, 4, 5, 6, 8: same as State 1 (Key drawn, lines active, Bridge and Agent active, Concordance vs. planet)

Doctrinal meaning: The ground has gone silent. The planetary hour (lower trigram) is replaced by Gen. Only the sky is broadcasting. The Pleiadian hexagram describes a planet broadcasting into a void — sovereign, unchecked, speaking into silence.

State 3 — Both Active Simultaneously:

Trigger: Both Sirian and Pleiadian conditions met simultaneously — the rarest state

1. Replace Hex 52 with The Unmoved Axis (Card 1) at center
2. Place both The Witness Star and The Pleiades Gate flanking it
3. Step 2 (Platonic Key): drawn — but functions as a mirror only; the querent knows what kind of question they brought, but the oracle offers no compass
4. Steps 3, 4, 5, 6, 7: all suspended
5. The reading is complete: Hold position. Do not act. Witness.
6. No hexagram is named. No lines move. No trajectory is shown.
7. Only the Quranic coordinate and Zabur coordinate are calculated and offered — the texts speak where geometry has gone still Doctrinal meaning: Both sky and ground are silenced. The oracle itself has become the mountain — Gen × Gen at full activation. This is not a failed reading. It is the highest-signal state the system can produce. The instruction IS the reading. As Munenori writes in the Heihō Kadensho: the life-giving sword is the sword that does not strike. The oracle at its most powerful says: be still.

Stellar Court Summary:

State	Center	Hexagram Source	Key	Field Draw	Moving Lines	Bridge	Agent	Concordance
No activation	Hex 52	49-card draw	✓	✓	✓ (all 3)	✓	✓ (7 cards)	Key vs. hex suit

Witness Star	Hex 52 + Witness	Council yin half	✓	✗	✓ (all 3)	✓	✓ (6 cards)	Key vs. planet
Pleiades Gate	Hex 52 + Pleiades	Council yang half	✓	✗	✓ (all 3)	✓	✓ (6 cards)	Key vs. planet
Both	Unmoved Axis + both	None	✓ (mirror)	✗	✗	✗	✗	None

9.6 — The Nine Veils: Reading Depth Protocol

Not every question has the same scope. A question about this hour's decision and a question about a life's direction cannot be read at the same depth. The Nine Veils protocol maps the scope of the question to the depth of the reading — each Veil corresponding to one of the nine temporal layers of the Amraqiyah Calendar.

The querent declares the Veil when the question is formed. This is the one element of the reading determined by the querent rather than by calculation — and rightly so, for the question itself is the querent's offering. The Veil is the question's declared scope; everything that follows is deterministic.

Veil	Temporal Layer	Question Scope	Layer Name
1	Planetary Hour	This hour's decision — immediate, tactical	Al-Qadir — The All-Powerful
2	Salah / Daily	Today's conduct — the day's arc	Al-Razzaq — The Provider
3	Jumu'ah / Weekly	The week's work — communal rhythm	Al-Jami' — The Gatherer
4	Lunar Mansion	The current station — the transit's theme	Al-Hadi — The Guide
5	Lunar Month	The month's project — one full lunation	Al-Tawwab — The Ever-Returning
6	Solar Season	The season's strategy — one quarter's campaign	Al-Musawwir — The Fashioner of Forms

7	Annual	The year's direction — one full solar arc	Al-Malik — The King
8	33-Year Harmonic	The life-stage — generational positioning	Al-Wahhab — The Bestower
9	Great Year	The civilizational question — the Age itself	Al-Baqi — The Everlasting

Mechanical Functions of the Veil:

Function 1 — Layer Engagement. A reading at Veil n engages temporal layers 1 through n. A Veil 3 reading calculates and interprets the planetary hour, the Salah window, and the weekly position — the deeper layers are present but not consulted. A Veil 9 reading engages all nine layers, from the hour to the Age. The temporal coordinate (Section 10) is calculated to the depth of the declared Veil.

Function 2 — Check Weighting. The three moving line checks carry different interpretive weight at different depths:

Veil Range	Dominant Check	Rationale
Veils 1–3	Check 2 (Sevenfold Weave — planetary)	Shallow questions live in the immediate; the crystalline present-moment force dominates
Veils 4–6	Check 1 (Lunar Day — tidal)	Mid-depth questions live in the month's arc; the tidal cyclical force dominates
Veils 7–9	Check 3 (Solar Season — structural)	Deep questions live in the structural; the slow civilizational force dominates

All active checks still produce moving lines at every Veil — the weighting governs interpretation, not calculation. At a Veil 2 reading, a Check 3 moving line is noted but read as background; at a Veil 8 reading, the same line is read as the primary pressure.

Function 3 — Dhikr Scale. The invocation count of the identified divine Name (Section 6.6, Act 2) scales with the Veil. At Veils 1–3, the Name is invoked by its Abjad value once. At Veils 4–6, the dhikr is performed across the relevant cycle (daily within the mansion transit, daily within the month). At Veils 7–9, the Name becomes a standing dhikr — a permanent practice for the duration of the question's arc.

Function 4 — The Veil Name. The Veil's own temporal layer Name joins the reading's active Names. A Veil 6 reading consults Al-Musawwir — The Fashioner of Forms — alongside the hexagram, suit, and Key Names. The scope of the question is itself a divine attribute.

Veil Discipline: A question asked at the wrong Veil produces a true reading of the wrong thing. Asking a Veil 1 question (should I send this message today?) at Veil 9 drowns a tactical matter in civilizational weight. Asking a Veil 9 question (what is my generation's work?) at Veil 1 reduces an Age to an hour. The discipline of Veil declaration is the discipline of knowing the true size of one's question — itself a spiritual practice. As Musashi teaches in the Go Rin No Sho: perceive that which cannot be seen with the eye, and know the smallest things and the biggest things as one.

Section 10 — The Complete Reading Coordinate System

Every complete reading carries up to six simultaneous coordinates — textual, numerical, and temporal:

Coordinate	System	Derived From	Character
Hexagram	I Ching	Mansion × Hour (Mode A) or draw (Mode B)	What the moment IS — the geometric statement
Divine Name	99 Names of Allah	Hexagram + suit + Platonic Key + temporal layers	Which attribute of Allah is being consulted
Quranic	Al-Quran al-Karim	Lunar day → Juz; Salah window → Hizb	Divine command — structural order from supreme revelation
Zabur	Psalms of Dawud	Platonic Key → Book; lunar day → Psalm; Salah → Verse	Human response — the creature's voice addressing the Creator
Abjad	Arabic gematria	Mansion letter value; question gematria; natal mansion	Phonemic resonance — the language of revelation encoding the moment
Temporal	Amraqiyyah Calendar	All 9 layers from planetary hour to Great Year	The clock behind everything — the seeker's position in the structure of the heavens

The six coordinates are not six readings. They are six lenses on one moment — each complete in itself, all convergent on the same question. The seeker approaches Allah through six simultaneous dimensions of the same encounter.

Section 11 — The Quranic Coordinate

11.1 — Derivation

Each reading carries a Quranic address derived from the Calendar:

Level	Determination	Output
Juz	Lunar day (1–30)	Specific Juz (1–30) — one Juz per lunar day
Hizb	Position within the lunar day	Specific Hizb (2 per Juz = 60 total) — first or second half of the day's Juz

The Salah window determines which Hizb is active: Tahajjud through Duha (the first three windows, pre-noon) activate the first Hizb of the day's Juz. Dhuhr-Asr through Maghrib-Isha (the second three windows, post-noon) activate the second Hizb.

Salah Windows	Hizb	Character
Tahajjud, Fajr, Duha	First Hizb of the day's Juz	The Juz's opening arc — foundation and emergence
Dhuhr-Asr, Asr-Maghrib, Maghrib-Isha	Second Hizb of the day's Juz	The Juz's closing arc — authority and completion

This produces a fully deterministic Quranic coordinate: the lunar day selects the Juz, the time of day selects the Hizb. The coordinate is recalculated for every reading.

11.2 — The Threshold Variant

In Stellar Court threshold readings where a Muqatta'at letter is activated (see Section 7.3, Application 4), the normal Quranic coordinate is replaced:

- The Muqatta'at letter's Abjad value → Surah number via modular reduction: $((\text{Abjad value} - 1) \bmod 114) + 1$
- The opening verse of that Surah becomes the reading's Quranic anchor

The Muqatta'at letter speaks. The Surah's opening verse answers. The normal Juz/Hizb coordinate is suspended — the threshold has its own textual voice.

Section 12 — The Sirian Cycle

12.1 — The Meta-Period

Sirius B orbits Sirius A with a period of approximately 50.13 years. This is the oracle's meta-period of institutional recalibration — the cycle at which the system reviews itself against its own foundations.

The 49/1 structure (49 drawable cards + 1 Axial Witness) mirrors the Sirian binary (Sirius A as the active field, Sirius B as the silent witness). Every ~50 years, the witness completes one orbit — one full cycle of silent observation. The oracle acknowledges this as its institutional review cadence.

12.2 — Recalibration Scope

At each Sirian Cycle boundary (~50 years), the following are subject to mandatory review:

- Planetary-trigram mappings: review for continued doctrinal alignment
- Hexagram interpretations: review against the accumulated reading record
- Divine Name assignments: review the 42 non-anchor hexagram Names against deepened understanding
- Temporal architecture: review the Calendar's operational alignment
- Canon compliance: review all secondary and tertiary canon integrations against the primary canon (Quran and Zabur)
- AGOSS anchor: confirm the galactic center reference coordinates against current astronomical measurements

12.3 — The Witness Stalk

The theoretical 50th element — the one held in reserve, the Tai Yi of the yarrow tradition (acknowledged as historical context, not as method) — is embodied in the Sirian Cycle itself. Sirius B is the witness that orbits in silence, observing the system's operation across a full half-century before the cycle resets. The witness does not intervene. It watches. At the cycle boundary, its observation becomes the basis for recalibration.

12.4 — Current Position

As of 2026 CE, the oracle is in the early years of its first Sirian Cycle — the establishment phase. The first recalibration boundary falls at approximately 2076 CE. The accumulated reading record between now and that boundary constitutes the empirical foundation against which the first institutional review will be conducted.

Section 13 — The Afroasiatic Linguistic Lineage

13.1 — Mdw Ntr as the Root

The linguistic foundation of the oracle's phonemic architecture traces to Mdw Ntr (Medu Neter) — the sacred writing system of ancient Kemet (Egypt). Mdw Ntr is not merely a historical curiosity within the Way. It is the root from which the entire Afroasiatic language tree grows — the tree that produced every sacred language the oracle consults.

The lineage:

Mdw Ntr (ancient Egyptian sacred script) → Hieratic (the cursive priestly form of Mdw Ntr) → Proto-Sinaitic (the earliest alphabetic script, derived from Hieratic signs used by Semitic-speaking workers in Egyptian mines) → Phoenician (the standardized Canaanite alphabet) → Aramaic (the prestige language of the ancient Near East, lingua franca of empires)

From Aramaic, three sister languages descend:

Language	Relation	Oracle Function
Arabic	Sister (from Aramaic via Nabataean)	The language of supreme revelation (Quran); the oracle's primary phonemic frame; Abjad gematria; the 28 letters = 28 mansions
Hebrew	Sister (from Aramaic via Paleo-Hebrew)	The language of the Zabur; the shared Semitic 22 values bridging the Abjad to the Psalms
Ge'ez	Sister (from Proto-South Semitic, with Aramaic influence)	The language of the Ethiopic Bible — the most complete Biblical canon; a direct link to the oldest Semitic liturgical traditions

Coptic stands as the cousin — not a Semitic language but the direct descendant of ancient Egyptian itself, written in Greek script after the Ptolemaic period. Coptic preserves the phonemic and liturgical structure of Mdw Ntr more directly than any Semitic language. The Coptic Bible is canonical within the Way precisely because it is the closest living textual connection to the Kemetic root.

13.2 — The Naskh-Hieratic Connection

The Arabic Naskh (نسخ) script — the standard calligraphic form used for Quranic transcription — carries a structural kinship with Hieratic that runs deeper than the alphabetic lineage. Both are cursive adaptations of a monumental sacred script (Mdw Ntr for Hieratic; the earlier angular Kufic for Naskh). Both developed as practical writing systems for scribal use while the monumental form was reserved for sacred architecture. The evolution from Hieratic to Proto-Sinaitic to Phoenician to Aramaic to Nabataean to Arabic Naskh is not merely a historical sequence — it is a calligraphic lineage of sacred scribal practice stretching across millennia.

13.3 — The Aramaic Correction

The oracle's Abjad system and its Zabur-Names bridge operate through the common Aramaic inheritance — not through Hebrew as a source language. The first 22 Abjad values are shared across Arabic, Hebrew, and Aramaic because all three received them from the same Phoenician-Aramaic ancestor. Hebrew is not the mother of this numerical system — it is a co-inheritor alongside Arabic, both receiving from Aramaic.

This distinction matters doctrinally. The Way does not position Arabic as an extension of Hebrew revelation. It positions Arabic, Hebrew, and Ge'ez as siblings — children of Aramaic, grandchildren of Proto-Sinaitic, descendants of Mdw Ntr. The Quran, the Zabur, and the Ethiopic Bible are not texts from three separate civilizations borrowing from each other. They are three expressions of a single sacred linguistic lineage rooted in ancient Kemet.

13.4 — The Kemetic Foundation

The ancient Egyptian root is not incidental to the Way — it is foundational. The Amraqiyyah system is, at its deepest level, an instrument for recovering, expressing, and optimizing the Kemetic sacred science through the lens of the traditions that descended from it. The Pythagorean mathematical framework enters through Pythagoras's documented study in Egypt. The stellar astronomy (Sirius, the Pleiades) enters through the Egyptian calendar's dependence on the heliacal rising of Sopdet (Sirius). The metaphysics of divine Names enters through the Egyptian tradition of divine epithets — the m (name) as the operative key to a deity's power.

The syncretic architecture of the Way — Islamic, Pythagorean, Confucian-Taoist, Buddhist, Gnostic-Christian, Zoroastrian, Bushido — is not a collection of borrowings. It is the means of expressing, expanding upon, and optimizing the ancient Egyptian root through every tradition that received its inheritance.

Appendix A — The Complete 78-Card Roster

Cards 1–28 — The Archetypal Tier (see Appendix B for the mansion-letter mapping): Cards 1–3 Stellar Court · Cards 4–10 Planetary Council (each carrying its Pleiadian/Sirian split pair — see Section 5.2) · Cards 11–15 Platonic Keys · Cards 16–28 Archimedean Bridges

Card 29 — Hex 52, The Axial Witness (Gen × Gen — permanent center, never drawn)

Cards 30–78 — The Hexagram Field (suit-organized; within each upper trigram, cards run by lower trigram in Chaldean order — Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Sun, Venus, Mercury, Moon):

#	Hexagram	Upper (Sky)	Lower (Ground)	Suit
---	----------	----------------	-------------------	------

30	Hex 2 — The Receptive	Saturn	Saturn	Earth — Pure Resonance
31	Hex 36 — Darkening of the Light	Saturn	Jupiter	Earth
32	Hex 24 — Return	Saturn	Mars	Earth
33	Hex 11 — Peace	Saturn	Sun	Earth
34	Hex 19 — Approach	Saturn	Venus	Earth
35	Hex 46 — Pushing Upward	Saturn	Mercury	Earth
36	Hex 7 — The Army	Saturn	Moon	Earth
37	Hex 35 — Progress	Jupiter	Saturn	Fire
38	Hex 30 — The Clinging	Jupiter	Jupiter	Fire — Pure Resonance
39	Hex 21 — Biting Through	Jupiter	Mars	Fire
40	Hex 14 — Great Possession	Jupiter	Sun	Fire
41	Hex 38 — Opposition	Jupiter	Venus	Fire
42	Hex 50 — The Cauldron	Jupiter	Mercury	Fire
43	Hex 64 — Before Completion	Jupiter	Moon	Fire
44	Hex 16 — Enthusiasm	Mars	Saturn	Fire
45	Hex 55 — Abundance	Mars	Jupiter	Fire

Ordering rule: suits proceed Earth → Fire → Ether → Air → Water; within each suit, upper trigrams in Chaldean order, then lower trigrams in Chaldean order. This canonical sequence is generated deterministically from the 7×7 matrix (Section 4.1) and is to be verified against the physical Card Roster at production.

28 Bridge 13 ☞ IV 28 — Batn al-Hut غ 1000 Moon
Ghayn

The abjadi ascent: the 28 mansions carry the 28 letters in their ancient numerical sequence — 1 through 1000 — so that the Moon's monthly circuit recites the complete Arabic number system, completing at Batn al-Hut before returning to one.

Appendix C — A Worked Reading (Mode B)

A complete demonstration of the protocol. All values are computed exactly as the instrument specifies.

The situation: A seeker brings a question about launching a month-long project — a Veil 5 question (one full lunation). The moment: lunar day 17, day 40 of the solar season, planetary hour of Mars, Moon transiting Mansion 9 (Al-Tarf — ruler: Mars; letter: ط Tta, Abjad 9). Salah window: Duha (window 3). No Stellar Court conditions active.

Step 0 — Axial Witness. Card 29 (Hex 52) placed at center.

Step 1 — Stellar Court check. No conjunctions, no heliacal risings. Proceed.

Step 2 — Platonic Key. Drawn: The Spark (Tetrahedron — Fire, Jalal). The question's realm is Fire: initiative, ignition, will. Bridge orientation: upright. Zabur Book: I. Key Name: Al-Mubdi' — The Originator.

Step 3 — Hexagram. Drawn: Hex 55 — Abundance (Mars over Jupiter — Thunder over Fire). Suit: Fire.

Step 4 — Moving lines.

- Check 1 (lunar): Day 17 falls in days 16–20 → Line 4.
- Check 2 (Sevenfold Weave): Hour ruler (Mars) = Mansion 9 ruler (Mars) → active. Duha → Line 3.
- Check 3 (solar): Day 40 falls on days 31–45 → Line 3.
- Abjad standing resonance: Mansion letter 1–9)) → $9 = ط \bmod 6) + 1 = \text{Line 3}$.

Result: Sevenfold Seal on Line 3 — planetary and solar clocks converge, with the mansion's own letter resonating at the same position. Line 3 carries triple weight. Line 4 moves under lunar pressure. Adjacent moving lines (3+4): the transition zone is active — the situation is in the crossing between peak engagement and the hinge of assessment.

Step 5 — Bridge. Drawn: Bridge 2 — Cuboctahedron (upright — vector equilibrium). The dynamic condition: perfect balance of forces, the zero point before commitment.

Step 6 — Agent. Drawn: The Striker (Mars), placed sideways. Mars = current hour ruler → Agent Resonance: the personal force and the temporal force are the same planet. The seeker's operative energy is aligned with the moment.

Step 7 — Transformed hexagram. Hex 55 lines (bottom to top): ---- ----. Flip lines 3 and 4: ---- ---- → Hex 24 — Return (Saturn over Mars — Earth over Thunder). The trajectory: Abundance, under this pressure, resolves into Return — the turning point, the re-rooting. Zanshin: what must be watched after the launch is the discipline of coming back to the root.

Step 8 — Concordance. Key element (Fire) vs. hexagram suit (Fire): Concordance. The question is well-formed — asked in the same elemental register the cosmos assigned.

The Names active: Hex 55's Name (Fire/Jalal register — assignment pending the 56-Name sub-document); suit Name Al-Aziz; Key Name Al-Mubdi; Veil 5 Name Al-Tawwab — The Ever-Returning. Note the system's internal echo: the Veil 5 Name (Al-Tawwab, the Ever-Returning) and the transformed hexagram (Hex 24, Return) speak the same word from independent derivations.

Quranic coordinate: Lunar day 17 → Juz 17. Duha (pre-noon) → first Hizb → Hizb 33.

Zabur coordinate (6 × 5 × 5 grid): Line $l = 4$ (Check 1). Day-in-window $d = 17 - 16 + 1 = 2$. Book $b = 1$ (The Spark). Psalm = $(4-1) \times 25 + (2-1) \times 5 + 1 = \text{Psalm } 81$. Verse = Salah window 3 → Psalm 81:3:

"Blow the trumpet at the new moon, at the full moon, on our feast day."

The coordinate, computed blind from the moon's day, the moon's window, and the question's element, lands on the Psalter's most explicitly lunar verse — at lunar day 17, with the full moon just past. The instrument addresses the moment.

The reading, assembled: An abundance question in the Fire register, asked at the right register (concordance), with the seeker's force aligned to the hour (Agent Resonance). Triple-sealed pressure at Line 3 — the line of maximum exertion and costliest error — warns that the peak-engagement phase is where this project will be won or lost. Lunar pressure at Line 4 says the hinge of assessment arrives with it. The trajectory (Return) and the Veil's own Name (Al-Tawwab) agree: build the coming-back into the launch. The trumpet verse marks the feast — the moment is appointed, and it is now.

The 99 Names Registry — Al-Tariqa Amraqiyyah

Complete Assignment of the Asma al-Husna Across the Oracle — Version 1.0

Sub-document of the Amraqiyyah Oracle Deck specification (Section 6.5). Enumeration: standard Tirmidhi list, ratified by ijtiḥad as the Way's canonical 99.

64 hexagrams + 13 Bridges + 5 Keys + 3 Court + 9 Layers + 5 Suits = 99. Every Name used exactly once. Verified by exhaustive constraint check: zero duplicates, zero omissions.

I. Previously Ratified Anchors (30)

II. The 14 Threshold Names — Az-Zahir / Al-Batin Pairs (57:3)

Pleiadian (sky speaks) = the Manifest register; Sirian (ground speaks) = the Hidden register. The Sun anchors the paradigm; each planet echoes it within its semantic family.

Planet	Pleiadian Hexagram	Manifest Name	Sirian Hexagram	Hidden Name
Sun	33 — Retreat	Az-Zahir الظاهر — The Manifest	26 — Taming Power of the Great	Al-Batin الباطن — The Hidden

Saturn	15 — Modesty	Al-Khafid الخافض — the manifest lowering	23 — Splitting Apart	Al-Hasib الحسيب — the hidden reckoning
Jupiter	56 — The Wanderer	Al-Basit الياسط — expansion declared	22 — Grace	Al-Barr البر — kindness working unseen
Mars	62 — Preponderance of the Small	Al-Muqaddim المقدم — the careful advance	27 — Nourishment	Al-Muqit المقيت — the Nourisher (the hexagram's own name)
Venus	31 — Influence	Al-Mujib المجيب — the manifest response	41 — Decrease	Al-Afuww العفو — the hidden release that purifies
Mercury	53 — Gradual Progress	Ar-Rashid الرشيد — right procedure made visible	18 — Work on the Decayed	Al-Mu'id المعيد — the hidden Restorer
Moon	39 — Obstruction	Al-Qabid القابض — the manifest halt	4 — Youthful Folly	Ar-Ra'uf الرؤوف — hidden tenderness toward the unformed

III. The 13 Archimedean Bridge Names

Bridge	Solid	Name	Basis
1	Truncated Tetrahedron	Al-Badi' البديع	The Incomparable Originator — first complexification
2	Cuboctahedron	Al-Adl العدل	Justice — the vector equilibrium
3	Truncated Cube	Al-Muqsit المقسط	The Equitable — right apportioning by cutting excess
4	Truncated Octahedron	Al-Hafiz الحفيظ	The Preserver — bounds that protect expansion
5	Rhombicuboctahedron	Al-Wakil الوكيل	The Trustee — many faces working in delegation
6	Truncated Cuboctahedron	Al-Hakim الحكيم	The Wise — all face-types integrated

7 ☞	Snub Cube	Al-Wajid الواجد	The Finder — perceives which mirror path
8	Icosidodecahedron	Ar-Raqib الرقيب	The Watchful — the cosmic-personal threshold
9	Truncated Dodecahedron	Al-Muhaymin المهيم	The Overseer — the cosmic rendered present
10	Truncated Icosahedron	Al-Muhsi المحصي	The Enumerator — the counted pattern
11	Rhombicosidodecahedron	Al-Kabir الكبير	The Great — vast yet not total; only Allah is total (62 of 64)
12	Truncated Icosidodecahedron	Al-Azim العظيم	The Magnificent — maximum magnitude
13 ☞	Snub Dodecahedron	Al-Wahid الواحد	The One — the mirror paths resolve in the One

IV. The 42 Core Hexagram Names

Earth suit (Jalal — Saturn upper): Hex 36 Darkening of the Light — Ad-Darr (ordained affliction) · Hex 24 Return — Al-Ba'ith (the Resurrector) · Hex 11 Peace — As-Salam (Peace itself) · Hex 19 Approach — Al-Waali (the Patron drawing near) · Hex 46 Pushing Upward — Ar-Rafi' (the Exalter) · Hex 7 The Army — Al-Jabbar (the Compeller)

Fire suit (Jalal — Jupiter upper): Hex 35 Progress — Al-Mu'izz (the Honorer) · Hex 21 Biting Through — Al-Muntaqim (the Avenger — the penal hexagram) · Hex 14 Great Possession — Al-Ghani (the Rich beyond need) · Hex 38 Opposition — Al-Mani' (the Withholder) · Hex 50 The Cauldron — Al-Bari' (the Maker who proportions within the vessel) · Hex 64 Before Completion — Al-Muqtadir (the outcome held in power)

Fire suit (Jalal — Mars upper): Hex 16 Enthusiasm — Al-Hamid (praise and music) · Hex 55 Abundance — Al-Maajid (the Noble-Glorious at zenith) · Hex 34 Great Power — Al-Qahhar (the Subduer) · Hex 54 The Marrying Maiden — Al-Mudhill (the Humbler) · Hex 32 Duration — Al-Warith (the Inheritor — what endures) · Hex 40 Deliverance — An-Nafi' (the rain that benefits)

Ether suit (Kamal — Sun upper): the transcendent six Hex 12 Standstill — Al-Muta'ali (heaven withdrawn above) · Hex 13 Fellowship — Al-Mu'min (security granted to the community) · Hex 25 Innocence — Al-Haqq (alignment with what is) · Hex 10 Treading — Al-Ali (conduct beneath the Most High) · Hex 44 Coming to Meet — Al-Awwal (the First who precedes every encounter) · Hex 6 Conflict — Al-Akhir (the Last, final arbiter of disputes)

Water suit (Jamal — Venus upper): Hex 45 Gathering Together — Malik-ul-Mulk (around whom all gathers) · Hex 49 Revolution — Al-Mumit (death of the old order — completing yuhyi wa yumit with the Water Key's Al-Muhyi) · Hex 17 Following — Al-Wali (the Friend one follows) · Hex 43 Breakthrough — Al-Ghafur (the flood that washes clean) · Hex 28 Great Preponderance — Al-Halim (bearing the sagging beam) · Hex 47 Oppression — Ash-Shakur (gratitude in exhaustion)

Water suit (Jamal — Moon upper): Hex 8 Holding Together — Al-Hayy (union as one life) · Hex 63 After Completion — Al-Basir (vigilance when all is in place) · Hex 3 Difficulty at the Beginning — Al-Khaliq (creation's birth-struggle) · Hex 5 Waiting — As-Sami' (the waiting that is heard) · Hex 60 Limitation — Al-Mu'akhkhir (the boundary that holds back) · Hex 48 The Well — Al-Mughni (the inexhaustible Enricher)

Air suit (Mercury upper): the Jalal-within-Jamal principle — the breath of Ar-Rahman carries majesty gently Hex 20 Contemplation — Al-Jalil (majesty beheld from the tower) · Hex 37 The Family — Al-Hakam (right order within the household) · Hex 42 Increase — Al-Majid (overflowing glory that gives below) · Hex 9 Small Taming — Al-Mutakabbir (the Supreme that yields only briefly to gentle restraint) · Hex 61 Inner Truth — Dhul-Jalali-wal-Ikram (Majesty and Generosity united at the sincere center) · Hex 59 Dispersion — Al-Ghaffar (the Ever-Forgiving who scatters what hardened)

Register note: assignments follow the suit's Jalal/Jamal/Kamal register as guidance, with the hexagram's traditional character governing where they diverge; the Air suit formally carries the Jalal-within-Jamal principle. The full 99 verified: zero duplicates, zero omissions, perfect exhaustion.
